The secretary was granted permission to make a trip to Edmonton on town business and also to take a few days' holiday. Accounts totalling $2,914.30 were passed for payment. The meeting adjourend after midnight.

Forty Guests Present At Banquet Honoring School Graduates

A banquet in honor of the 1957 graduating class was held in the Plamondon Community Hall.

A chicken dinner was served to 40 guests, including the graduates and their escorts, their parents, the school staff, local educational officials, municipal nurse, and Hon. Mr. Maccagno M.L.A. and his wife. All catering service was performed by the Grade IX-XI students.

Graduating students from Plamondon were Clara Stratton, Gisele Labonte, Rena Plamondon, Dolores t. Jean and Andre Piquette.

An enjoyable program was presented. Paul Piquette, teacher, acted as master of ceremonies and capably directed proceedings. A toast to the graduates was proposed by Louis Legall and responded to by Clara Stratton. In acknowledging the gratitude to the staff, expressed by Rena Plamondon in her toast to the teachers, Arthur Girard gave high praise to the students and advised them to keep on with their studies.

Roland Piquette replied to the tributes paid to the parents, by Clara Stratton. A toast to the trustees was proposed by Dolores St. Jean and responded to by Mr. Claude Gauthier. Gisele Labonte proposed a toast to the pope, and Andre Piquette to the Queen. Songs by Dolores St. Jean provided a pleasing interluue.

Rena Plamondon, in giving the valedictory, reminisced of the past 2 years and expressed some of the hopes and aspirations of youth in English. Andre Piquette presented his valedictory in French. Rev. Father Ricard and Hon. Mr. Maccagno gave short talks.

Concluding the ceremony, the scrolls were presented to each graduate by Emile Plamondon. The girls received a luggage train case, and Andre Piquette, a leather brief case, as a farewell gift from the Students' Union.

Beach Ready For Season's Activities

LAC LA BICHE — A number of public spirited members of the local Lion's Club and Home and School Association rallied Thursday afternoon to clean up a section of beach just west of the government dock.

A slide which has been provided by the Lion's Club, was set up on the sandy beach, and needless to say, a queue of happy youngsters gathered at once and gave the gift from the Lion's a thorough workout.

With the lake not so high as last year, a fine stretch of beach can now be put to good use by the children. A picnic table has been placed under some stately poplars nearby where the view of the lake and distant island is nothing short of superb.

Local boys and girls will be able to enjoy a lakeshore holiday all summer long which many of their less privileged cousins would be delighted to experience for even a day.

It's easy to find an excuse for delaying hard work.

June 30, Day Set For Kikino Evangelical Church Dedication Service

Kikino Evangelical Church dedication is to be held June 30, at 11 a.m., 3 and 7 p.m. The Rev. Ellwood Hill of Christian Servicemen's Centre, Wainwright, will be main speaker.

Gerber of Lac la Biche, and speakers from Vermilion and Edmonton are expected.

"He" Wins Again

NEW YORK — Evangelist Billy Graham said that men are bigger gossips than women — but with a difference.

"When women talk a lot it's called gossip," Graham said. "But when men do the talking, they call it exchanging news."

A pretty young thing passing by is still a sight to see, even in 1957 with its Middle East crises, et al.

P. D. HAMEL (deceased), top, was postmaster in Lac la Biche from Nov. 8, 1915, until Feb., 1927. He was succeeded by his son Clovis Henri Hamel, below, who served Lac la Biche residents from Feb. 15, 1927, until his death in January, 1953. Mrs. C. Hamel, wife of the last named, is a well-known resident of Lac la Biche. Mrs. Claire Byrkelo, now assistant to the postmaster, Paul Bouvier, is a granddaughter of P. D. Hamel.

Lac la Biche

A chagne in the weather pattern began Sunday night, June 9, when a good shower of rain fell, breaking a long period of dry weather which had retarded the growth of many fields of grain. Since that time other heavy showers have brought welcome relief to the situation.

Many highly favourable reports have been coming in about the good fishing at Owl River and other nearby points.

Another Paper Closes Doors

CARDIFF, Wales — The Cardiff and South Wales Times, 100 years old this year, has "gone to bed," for the last time.

The weekly newspaper, owned by the Kemsley group, ceased publication May 24 and has been absorbed in two other Kemsley papers, the South Wales Echo and Western Mail. About 90 weeklies have folded or been merged with other papers in the United Kingdom since the Second World War, including 11 this year.

Goodness may be the chief end of human endeavor, but it has to be mixed with brains to mean anything to the world.

Veteran, Lawyer Wins Edmonton West Seat

EDMONTON, (BUP) — An Edmonton lawyer, Marcel Lambert, captured Edmonton West for the progressive conservatives in the June 10 election.

The seat was held by mines minister George Prudham in the last house.

Lambert had a comfortable 17-hundred vote margin over liberal candidate Henry Dyde who cornered 11,300 votes.

Lambert, an Albertan by birth, was raised in Edmonton. He served overseas in the Canadian Army during the second world war taking part in Dieppe raid in the summer of 1943. Requiem High mass was said for him in St. Joseph cathedral here after he was officially reported killed in action.

However, he later turned up in a German prison-of-war camp where he spent the rest of the war. On his return home, he married and went to the University of Alberta on a government grant. He won a rhodes scholarship, then studied Law at Oxford.

Lambert who is now 36, is a member of the law firm of Lindsay Emery Ford Massie Jamieson and Lambert. He has been mentioned as a possible cabinet member in John Diefenbaker's tory government.

THE Homemaker

By Doris Montalbetti

Coffee Making in Quantity

Sure, I know you know how to make coffee. But the many times I have received a poor cup of coffee at a large gathering, is indication enough that maybe too many cooks spoil the broth.

The quality of coffee in the cup depends on many things:

—Coffee blend, roast and grind. Choose a brand which is rich flavored and full bodied.

—Water. Fresh drawn and freshly heated water is best. A pronounced flavor from minerals in the water, will affect the palatability.

—Equipment. Prolonged contact with metals, other than stainless steel, is likely to result in poor flavor. Glass or unchipped enamelware containers are favored next to stainless steel. Above all, remember to have all your equipment absolutely clean. Wash containers with hot water to which soda has been added, and rinse well with boiling water. Coffee bags can be made of new unbleachhed sheeting. Do not launder coffee bags as soaps and detergents cause off-flavors. Make your bag big enough to allow one pound of coffee grounds to double in bulk. Do not put more than one pound of coffee into a bag, as the hot water will not come in contact with the grounds. Rinse coffee bags in cold water and when they are not in use, allow them to stand in cold water.

—Holding Temperature and time. Drop coffee bags into freshly boiling water and continue infusion just below boiling point for 15 to 20 minutes. Remove bag and serve. Do not allow coffee to chill or boil.

Recipe for Serving 50

Coffee, 1 lb. (5 cups)
Water, 2½ to 3 gallons.
This gives you 65 to 80 6-oz. cups of coffee—enough for seconds.

District Agriculturist Notes

By J. S. LORE

Many farmers will be thinking of the chemical weed control to control weeds in growing crops again this year. Chemical weed control has been accepted almost universally in the western provinces. It can help if used wisely but it can harm your crop if used incorrectly. It should be kept in mind that selective chemicals like 2,4-D and MCP do not kill all the weeds and that they kill some weeds easier than others, therefore, the kind of weeds and the stage of growth will depend on the amount of chemical used per acre. Since this year is a bit earlier than the past few years, the spraying should be done earlier too. The largest increases in yield are obtained when the spraying is done as early as the crop can stand it.

There are three forms of 2-,4-D available — ester, amine and sodium salt. The ester has been more widely used than either of the other two. It acts more quickly, is not readily affected by rains immediately following application, and less of it is required to obtain a weed kill. The cost of the ester per acre is usually lower than that of the other two forms. It is somewhat more harsh on crops than the amine or sodium salt, so the amine or sodium salt are preferable on sensitive crops such as flax and legumes.

MCP can also be obtained as a sodium salt, amine or ester. MCP is generally less harsh on plants than 2,4-D. It is very useful for controlling weeds in such crops as peas, alfalfa, clovers (except sweet clover), oats and flax. The sodium salt of MCP will be less harsh on these particularly susceptible crops than ester or amine. In cereal crops the ester of MCP often will give better results on hemp nettle than will 2-4-D.

The ester of 2,4-D may be used safely on wheat and barley. Only the lighter application should be used on an oat crop. Medium application as amine of 2-4-D may be used on oats. 2,4-D is not recommended for use on alfalfa, peas or clovers.

The ester or amine of MCP can be safely used on cereals and flax. The sodium salt of MCP is recommended for the control of weeds in peas, alfalfa and clover. MCP may be used in an established crop of legumes and it may be used on a cereal crop that is under-seeded with legumes. MCP should not be used at any time on sweet clover.

Most weeds are more easily killed when young and less damage is done to the crop when sprayed earlier as it is safe to treat. Wheat and barley can be safe to spray from the four-leaf stage to the shot-blade stage. Oats can be safely treated when it is about 10 inches high to the early boot stage. Flax can be safely treated from the four to five bud stage.

To assist the farmers with their spraying problems there will be a spraying demonstration in Hylo district, 1:30 p.m., June 20. The farm has not yet been selected.

Newlyweds To Reside In Peace River

A wedding of wide interest in the Atmore and Charron districts was solemnized June 8 at St. Philip's Church, Atmore, when Miss Madeleine Genoud, youngest daughter of Mrs. L. Genoud and the late Mr. Leo Genoud, was married to Barry Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Paul, Peace River. Rev. Albert Noel officiated.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white strapless, full-length lace and net gown over taffeta, and a hooped crinoline. The lace jacket, buttoned in front and sleeves ended in lily-points. An embroidered chapel-length veil misted from a pearl encrusted sequin head piece. She carried a cascade of red roses and white carnations with white satin streamers ending in love-knots and tiny rosebuds. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. She was given away by a brother, John Genoud.

Attending the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. Steven Derk. Mrs. Derk chose a cocktail-length gown, shrimp in color. Her bouquet was of gold daisies.

Mrs. J. Genoud played the wedding music and Miss Delores St. Jean sang "Ave Maria."

A reception for over 50 guests was held in the Atmore Hall. Mr. F. Campbell proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded.

For travelling the bride donned a brown floral sheath and a brown bengaline duster coat with pink accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

After a brief honeymoon to the city the bridal pair motored to Peace River, where they will take up residence.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Paul of Peace River, Mrs. Rutledge of Monitor, Miss Irene Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. York and many friends from Edmonton.

NEWS FROM OTHER ALBERTA TOWNS

S. Calvert, Former Westlock Fireman, Appointed Voluntary Fire Chief

VALLEYVIEW—The office of the Secretary-Treasurer of Town of Valleyview reports from the minutes of the council meeting, June 3, at 8:00 p.m.

A committee of two from the Valleyview Co-op Assn., interviewed council as to when the Co-Op Store would be moved and what remuneration would be received for moving their buildings and loss of land. Council informed this committee that the replotting setback on 70th Ave. had not been registered at this date, and until such time as it had been registered they were not at liberty to state date of removal of buildings nor the amount of remuneration they would pay to the association.

The council having only been in office for two months and having had a heavy schedule of business decided to review correspondence in relation to the former council's office concerning the set-back on 50 Ave. It was then decided that after the amount of work the old council had put into this new plan, and being a very good plan, that the resolution to have the plan registered in the Land Titles Office be adopted.

Constable Bradley was present to ask Council about the allowance he received from the town to help defer costs of operating his car while on duty. He stated that a car was a necessary part of his equipment in the cases of impaired driving, hit and run accidents and speeding. The council after more discussion on the subject, decided to continue paying the car allowance to Constable Bradley.

Mr. Bedard, deputy Alberta fire Commissioner, in conversation with a number of the councillors the week previous, told them they were fortunate to have in the town, a man with considerable fire fighting experience and willing to take on the job of organizing the voluntary Fire Brigade for Valleyview. Mr. Bedard was referring to Stanley Calvert, hotel manager, who in the past was a member of the Westlock Fire Brigade, one of the top in the province. The Council of Valleyview have now officially appointed Calvert voluntary Fire Chief.

A by-law of the town of Valleyview was read a first and second time and approved in principle. It now has to be approved by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council for the Province before being read a third time for final approval of Council. This By-Law deals with the purchase of land from Mrs. Elsie Williamson for a sewage disposal ground. The Mayor and Sec.-Treas. made a temporary agreement with Jack Williamson on behalf of his mother, and Council adopted the actions of the Mayor and Sec.-Treasurer.

Council also decided to purchase a road grader for use on the streets in the town and also in building new ones. Council will also smooth the parking areas in front of all business places where and when possible. This grader has been in use on the new ball diamond at the Community Centre and is for the benefit of all ratepayers of the town.
